Sonnets & Sestinas: Poems for Glacier Park

Enjoy an early evening poetry reading in the Terrace Room of the Belton Lodge on June 25th. The poetry celebrates the unique environment of Glacier Park, the relationship between it and the visitor, and the experience of wilderness. This event is free to the public, and refreshments will be provided.

Poetry contest winners will be present to read their submissions and receive prizes. Various forms of poetry will include: free verse, sonnets, sestinas, villanelles, limericks, haiku, and odes.

To enter the poetry contest, submit up to two poems by April 10, 2010. Please include phone number and mailing address for notification of winners.
